Little Bertha Ottenberg, whose parents reside at No. 1428 8th street northwest (but formerly lived at No. 1243 7th street northwest, for more than thirteen years Mr. Ottenberg carried on quite an extensive bakery business retired), has for the past three or four stuff up and she was continually trying to clear her throat, which was very highly inflamed and often ulcerated. In fact, it was a frequent oc-currence for her to refuse food on account of the pain the swallowing induced. She was very hourse most of the time, and the slightest exposure aggravated her condition. Her mother says: "I certainly am thankful that I took Bertha to Dr. Jordan. I took her to two other physicians, but the reatment was so severe that she could not stand while on the other hand was always ready and willing to go for her treatment with Dr. Jordan. Now her nose is clear, her throat in excellent condition, she has no more sore throat, her voice clear and her general health splendid. MARRIAGE AND OFFICE.

How It Affects the Female Clerks in the Departments.

Permission to Enter Wedlock Asked and Given-What Some of the Clerks Say.

There are several cases in the Department of the Interior where husband and wife hold office. There is no rule of the department to prevent this, but there is strong opposition to it in high official circles. It is looked upon as bad policy. Married women, it is supposed, are provided for by their husbands. The places which they hold might be filled with widows, or unprotected women, who would be just as efficient as clerks. Thus, there might be a blending of business and charity. It is now the practice of the department in the matter of promotions to give preference to unmarried female clerks over their married sisters, provided, of course, that the record for efficiency of the maiden is not below that of the matron. A case of this kind arose not very long ago. In one of the divisions there was a clerk who averaged daily 140 pages of work. Near her were two clerks, one married, the other not. They were of equal ability. Each averaged about 68 pages per diem. One had to be reduced in order that the clerk of greatest efficiency might be promoted. The matron was the victim. Some opposition was made to this arrangement by the "influence" of the reduced clerk, and the answer was made by the department that the married woman was most able to bear

Permission to Marry Asked. Marriage is considered a dangerous experiment by the clerks, and they often ask permission to wed from their superior officers. Only a few days ago the chief clerk of the department received a letter from a young female clerk stating that she contemplated matrimony. Her parents were dependent on her and the man of her choice had just entered his profession and had not which has made a permanent cure of my case. I as yet struck the combination to fame and have recommended it to many and they have used fortune. She loved him, and although he could support her she would not like to have to impose her parents upon him. She did not desire to jeopardize her position, and therefore asked the consent and the blessing of the department. It was given. Mr. Daniels, it is said, wrote to the young lady and told her that neither he nor the Secretary of the Interior would enter any protest against the course of true love, provided they were invited to the ceremony and permitted to kiss the bride. What Some of the Clerks Think.

Some of the department people declare that any rule of the department tending to discourage marriage would be void at law Department people were human, had a common right to choose their mates without being meddled with by the department, and that if Barkis and Pegotty were willin' it was none of the Secretary's business. With the consent and urgent request of the n tron and one vice president, I will give the testimony of one of our fi.mates, Mrs. Eliza Fuller. She was quite ill with canker in her mouth threat and chest, her complaint at every meal being "I cannot swallow." She read in the Nashua papers of so many wonderful cures performed by Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy that she was induced to try it. She procured a bottle and the medicine cured her.

Another of our inmates was cured by Dr. Greene's medicine, and we all bless it for what it has done and have perfect confidence in the remedy for pervous and chronic diseases. M. E. SMITH. Now we learn that various foreign missions in India, China. etc., are having the remedy sent them as part of their necessary requirements in

Of course all these facts give the people everywhere the greatest confidence in the medicine, and their confidence is well placed. Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and herve remedy does cure. It makes the sick well. It is furthermore purely vegetable and perfectly safe to give to infants, children or the most delicate invalid. These facts make it the most popular remedy of the day, and druggists state that no remedy has ever equaled it either in state that no remedy has ever equaled it either in its enormous sales or the complete satisfaction it

There are very few exhibits from out of the city. Most of the flowers that are entered in the various contests for prizes are grown within the District of Columbia. The reason for this is very simple. There are very few florists outside of Washington who can compare with the florists of Washington or who can hope to compete with them with any de-

A REPRESENTATIVE LADY SPEAKS.

"I not only deem it a duty but a pleasure to add my testimony to the many others regarding the skill of Dr. Newlin and the successful results of his treatment. My trouble was catarrh of the stomach, bladder trouble and a general debilitated condition until I was terribly run down. My nervous system was in an awful condition, but it is now perfect, and my general health is better than I ever expected it would be again. I most heartily and cheerfully recommend Dr. Newlin to the afflicted."

following explanation of the financial stringency of the past summer: "Between May and October of this year the withdrawals in individual deposits in national banks alone were $299,000,000, and of banks and bankers' deposits to the amount of $79.000,000, a total of $378,000,000. To meet this drain the banks were compelled to call in loars, thus depleting the resources of active trade to the extent of $318,000,000 and from banks and bankers to the amount of $51,00,000 while to their borrowings was added $57, 000,000. In the light of these figures and apart from the statistics of a like nature which could be added from state savings which could be added from state savings and private banks who can doubt but that the shrinkage in deposits on the one hand, contributing only to the fund of hoarded money, and the calling in on the other of loans necessitated by the demands of de loans necessitated by the demands of de-positors withdrawing such vast sums from the activities of business con ributed more than all else to the stagnation from which we have suffered?"

Badly Burned in a Mine Explosion. While at work on a gangway on Laurel Hill colliery near Hazleton, Pa., yesterday morning a sudden rush of gas enveloped Fred Ellis, Michael Ryan, miners, and Harry Andrews, a driver. Their lamps ignited the gas and an explosion followed. The arrival of other workmen saved the men from being roasted alive, but they are severely injured.
